Trevi Group awarded orders and contracts totalling $848.94 (€591) million since January

Trevi S.p.A., the division of the Trevi Group specialized in deep foundations and geotechnical works, and Soilmec S.p.A., the mechanical engineering division of the Trevi Group that designs and manufactures equipment for ground engineering, in line with the positive trend of the previous year, was awarded, in the first four months of 2023, orders and contracts for a total of $310.56 (€216.2) million. Thanks to these acquisitions, the Group's order backlog amounted to $848.94 (€591) million in April.

"In addition to the Trevi acquisitions and the Soilmec orders that have consolidated our Group's order backlog, we are working, with good prospects, on other interesting development opportunities both in Italy and abroad," said Giuseppe Caselli, CEO of the Trevi Group.

Some of the most recent acquisitions include projects in Italy and the Middle East.

In Italy, Trevi S.p.A. has recently signed a contract for the execution of the foundation works for the new Railway Link in Florence. This is the urban section of the new HS/HC line that will run underground with two parallel tunnels for approximately seven kilometres.

In Milan, Trevi will be working on behalf of Evd Milan - a company belonging to the Cts Eventim Group, listed on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange - on the piling works for the construction of the new Santa Giulia Arena, a multi-purpose facility that will host hockey competitions during the Milan-Cortina 2026 Olympic Games.

In Sicily, Trevi will work for the Messina-Catania northern lot consortium, which was awarded by Rfi the "Fiumefreddo-Taormina Lot 2" of the railway doubling on the Messina-Catania section.

New acquisitions were also made in the Middle East.

In Saudi Arabia, Trevi Arabian Soil Contractor, the local subsidiary of the Trevi Division, will carry out the foundation works for the construction of the new DoubleTree by Hilton Jeddah King Abdullah Square Hotel and Suites.

In Kuwait, the Trevi subsidiary will carry out the foundation works for the CMA Tower, the new headquarters of the Capital Market Authority (the body that supervises the financial stability of the Kuwait Stock Exchange, the oldest in the Gulf region).

Finally, in the U.A.E., Swissboring Overseas, a subsidiary of Trevi, will be involved, on behalf of the MAG Group, a real estate company, in the foundation works for the Keturah Resort, destined to become, with villas, flats and hotels, one of the largest wellness centres in the world.
